Witness alleges:

Hitchhiker's boots bring him death

By BRENT MACEY

A Pearl River County man has been charged with first degree murder in the shooting death of a man discovered Friday in a ditch on the side of Rifle Range Road in Hancock County.

Jack Strahan, 31, of the White Sands

JACK STRAHAN, charged with first degree murder.

Community in Pearl River County is being held in Pearl River County Jail without bond.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said Wednesday that a man turned himself in to the Pearl River County Sheriff's Department Monday night and stated he witnessed a murder during the early morning hours of Dec. 22.

Peterson did not identify the witness. "Basically the witness stated he and three other subjects were in a vehicle which ran out of gas on Hwy. 59 in Pearl River County," Peterson said.

He said he was sleeping in the back when a hitchhiker approached the car," Peterson stated.

"He (the witness) said he heard a shot and woke up. From the back seat he saw the driver of the vehicle outside the car with a gun in his hand and he saw a man laying on the pavement who had been shot," Peterson said.

"The suspect allegedly shot him because he wanted the hitchhiker's boots," Peterson said.

Strahan was already in Pearl River County Jail when the witness came forward.

Pearl River County Administrative

Officer Aubrey Lumpkin confirmed reports that Strahan has been in jail since Christmas Eve when he was arrested by Pearl River County deputies and charged with resisting arrest, possession of whiskey and beer, failure to yield to a blue light, destruction of county property and possession of a deadly weapon.

Lumpkin said the three other subjects allegedly in the car at the time of the murder have not been arrested or charged with any crimes.

Peterson said the witness stated the man murdered was wearing a shirt with either the number 52 or 62 printed on it.

The man found in Hancock County Friday was wearing an athletic shirt with the number 52 printed on it and had nothing on his feet except socks, the sheriff noted.

"We feel strongly that the body was dumped here after the murder in Pearl River County," the sheriff said.

Peterson noted Mississippi Highway Patrol Investigator T.P. Naylor and Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay traveled to Bogalusa, La. Tuesday and picked the witness up.

"They brought him to Mississippi where he pointed to a spot on Hwy. 59 in Pearl River County where the alleged murder happened," Peterson said.

"Since we feel it happened over there, Pearl River County authorities will have jurisdiction over the case. We'll only be working in an advisory capacity from now on," Peterson said.

The sheriff noted the body of the man found in Hancock County has not yet been identified.

Investigators at the New Orleans Coroner's Office determined the man's death was the result of a gun shot which entered the back of his head behind the left ear. The gun used is believed to have been either a .32 caliber or nine millimeter pistol.

Peterson stated that only two fingerprints could be obtained from the partially decomposed body which investigators feel was that of a white male about 30-years-old.

The New Orleans coroner feels the subject had been dead some 48 hours when discovered by hunters.

"They're attempting to identify him by the two fingerprints and dental work," Peterson said.

Waveland to outlaw modular homes

By BRENT MACEY

The City of Waveland is planning to pass an ordinance prohibiting modular homes from locating within city limits, apparently because of a problem involved in distinguishing the homes from trailers without wheels.

The decision was made at a Board of Aldermen meeting last week after the issue was discussed with a Waveland couple who recently located a modular home in the city.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry, had been requested to attend the meeting. Although they have obtained all necessary city permits to have their home connected to water, sewer and gas, the city fathers decided they now want further information before lines are allowed to be run to the property.

Aldermen agreed that if evidence can be gathered to prove the couple did buy a modular home and not a trailer, then the home can remain in the city.

The proof must be gathered before next month, when the aldermen pass an ordinance against modular homes.

The proof must show the Henry's modular home does conform to the Southern Standard Building Code for homes. Gathering the proof may involve flying the city's building inspector to the manufacturing plant to inspect materials used to construct the homes.

An alternative may involve tearing walls out of the home to inspect wiring and other structural details.

Currently an ordinance on the books prohibits locating trailers in the city. But no mention is made of modular homes in the statute.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex stated, "The problem is there is not really a whole lot of difference between a modular home and a trailer."

He noted trailer manufacturers are making trailers larger and larger; sometimes 80 feet long and 16 feet wide. "They might call them modular homes, but they're still trailers," he said.

The Henry's claim they have purchased a modular home and have drawings of the building which were provided by the distributor.

Waveland Mayor John Longo claimed the papers were not enough proof.

"Any distributor can zero off what he wants and show a piece of paper saying it's a modular home," he said.

Mr. Henry noted he has all the city permits needed to have the home connected to city utilities.

He noted he waited until obtaining a building permit before he purchased the home.

Apparently those permits are of no consequence.

The following day Mr. Henry said he had invested some $4,000 in the unit, including money to obtain a building permit and a gas, water and sewer permit.

School board hands emergency situation to superintendent

By BRENT MACEY

The Hancock County School Board Monday authorized Superintendent Terrell Randolph to handle an emergency situation rather than take the responsibility on themselves.

Randolph noted he wanted a bus motor purchased and installed before students return to school after the Christmas vacation. A motor on bus No. 4 broke down on the last day of school before the holiday, he said.

The purchase, if not declared an emergency, would require advertising in order to obtain bids.

The time period involved in advertising would delay the purchase and installation until after students returned to school.

After informing the board of two possible courses of action which could be taken to declare the situation an emergency and avoid advertising, the board opted for the second alternative, which allows Randolph to assume the responsibility.

Board Member Movel Cuevas told Randolph, "I'd rather you handle it. We've had enough problems with emergency situations."

Randolph had informed the board that it could approve the purchase Monday and then declare the situation an emergency at its next meeting.

Documentation of the purchase and reasons prompting the action would have to be spread on the board's minutes at the next meeting, he said.

The second method allows the superintendent to take action on his own after receiving verbal approval from the State Budget Commission.

Randolph noted Tuesday he must

MODULAR HOME OR TRAILER—This structure, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry on Tippen Street in Waveland, has come under close scrutiny by the Waveland Board of Aldermen recently. Although the owners have obtained all necessary permits to locate the building in city limits and also to have it connected to city water, sewer and gas, the aldermen say they are uncertain if this is a modular home or a trailer. Proof will be required before the next aldermen meeting to show the building conforms to Southern Standard Building Code if it is to remain in the city. At the next meeting the aldermen expect to pass an ordinance prohibiting modular homes within city limits. Mr. Henry claims the aldermen were removed from the home by orders of Waveland Building Inspector Ruffa Henley. Henry said Henley approved the permit and agreed to allow the building to locate in the city prior to the controversy. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Physicians among crews of Challenger II & III

Dr. Norman Thagard and Dr. William Thornton have been added to the crew of STS-7 and STS-8, respectively, the second and third Challenger flights.

Thagard and Thornton, both physicians, have been added to assist in accomplishment of additional mission objectives. Neither have flown in space before.

Thagard will join STS-7 Commander Robert L. Crippen, Pilot Frederick H. Hauck, and Mission Specialists John M. Fabian and Dr. Sally K. Ride. The six-day mission is scheduled for launch in April 1983.

Thornton will join STS-8 Commander Richard Truly, Pilot Daniel Brandenstein, and Mission Specialists Dale Gardner and Guion Bluford Jr. for the four-day mission to be launched in late June 1983.

Both Thagard and Thornton, mission specialists, will conduct medical tests to collect additional data on several physiological changes that are associated with the space adaptation syndrome.

These tests will focus on the neurological system and are a continuation of the new approach to making inflight measurements which began on STS-4.

These efforts are directed toward initiation of an inflight search for countermeasures and to provide a more complete understanding of the space adaptation syndrome.

contact that agency, receive approval, purchase the motor and then place documentation of the purchase—including reasons prompting the action—on the board's minutes at the next meeting.

A copy of those minutes, plus a sworn statement by Randolph certifying his action, must be sent to the commission at the earliest possible date after the next meeting, he said.

This is the first time that the board has handled an emergency situation in this manner, Randolph said Tuesday.

In the past the board has opted to use a third method of declaring situations of an emergency.

That method involves having the board declare a situation an emergency and then obtain two price quotes.

In other business at the Monday meeting, Cuevas told members of the press that all maintenance people are working during the week between Christmas and New Year's weekends, a holiday period for teachers and students.

Randolph, at the board's previous meeting, had threatened not to sign checks for maintenance personnel who did not work.

He also asked Board Attorney Joseph Gex to determine if it is legal for the employees to be paid without working.

Gex was not present at the Monday meeting with that legal opinion. "It doesn't matter," Cuevas said about the legal opinion. "They're all working anyway."

In other action, the board approved the low bid of $100 from Peterson Electric Co. for repairs to a sewerage treatment facility at Charles B. Murphy Elementary School.

Approved a lease purchase agreement with S&D Leasing Inc. of Gulfport for a new copying machine at the central office. The lease purchase agreement extends over a 36-month period at $205 a month, with the first month's cost set at $410.

Michoud readies second Challenger external tank

The next giant Space Shuttle external tank to be barged from NASA's Michoud Assembly Facility will leave New Orleans Friday, Jan. 7 on a five-day trip to Kennedy Space Center, Fla.

This is the second tank of a new lighter weight design and is slated for a July 1983 Shuttle flight. It is the second flight of the orbiter Challenger. The July shuttle mission will deliver two communications satellites to orbit.

Martin Marietta builds the external tanks at the Michoud facility under contract to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center.

Quotables by Cuevas

Last week we received a copy of Mrs. Elizabeth Sullivan's newest book of poems titled 'Louisiana Lullaby - Poems of Old New Orleans.'

Mrs. Sullivan, a resident of Bay St. Louis for many years, has previously published a book of poems about the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

We are anxious to read her latest edition, as it contents are based in New Orleans as it was almost a century ago.

The talents our many residents have are amazing, and we are glad to see some such as Mrs. Sullivan use them.

Only a limited number of the books have been printed, and we understand they are on sale at the Rosebud Antiques, Central Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

It is a very good idea for that someone special as a gift on a special day.

We were sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. Sue Goldman last weekend.

Mrs. Goldman was a pioneer in Girl Scouting in Bay St. Louis and many of her troop's members we have known for a very long time.

The scout troop was sponsored by the Main Street Methodist Church, Bay St. Louis and was open to girls of all denominations.

A person active in water sports with a concern for animals, Mrs. Goldman will long be remembered by the ladies who were members of her troop over the years.

A volunteer organist and choir leader for many years at the Main Street Methodist Church, she was dedicated to God, family, and community.

We want her three sons and family to know although that good citizen of Bay St. Louis is gone, very good memories will remain.

The year of 1982 is fast closing, and we wonder where has it gone.

Many of us will be making New Year's resolutions, and some will probably keep them for a few weeks with only a small fraction keeping them for the whole year.

We know there are many like us who will try and get a few pounds off, especially after the holiday feasting.

So, we are going to try again, to lose a little weight in the coming year.

While on the subject of the New Year, we know many parties are on tap.

We again ask everyone to please be extremely careful over the weekend. If you drink, please have someone sober drive.

We want to wish each and every one A Happy New Year!

BE A GOOD CITIZEN:

People tend to litter where litter has already accumulated. Throwing trash from an automobile—be it a glass bottle, a metal container, or paper products—is like saying to someone else: throw yours, it's alright.

Litter is always ugly.

Letter to the Editor

Yes, Editor,
There is a Santa Claus, and Santa does have some helpers.

I know because Leo Seal sent a check for the purchase of an all weather flag for the library and money for a cigarette stub receptacle.

Elizabeth Hillery Sullivan sent an autographed copy of her recent book of poems called Louisiana Lullaby which said:

"dedicated to the pleasure of our community in our beautiful library so vital and important in its reflection of values."

Mrs. Nell McKinney sent a membership enrollment which makes our Friends of the Library group members of the national association and provides us with valuable informative publications.

Cards and letters came in offering services — one was especially appreciated.

It came from Norton Haas Sr. who said: "My time is limited as my good wife is very ill, but she understands and wishes for me to continue my efforts when possible — contributions to a community and county I love."

Isn't this wonderful! All these wide-awake people willing to work together for services our libraries can and do provide!

Happy New Year, — Each and All.

ETHICS

Ethics in business and government is a subject that too often is overlooked when one considers the day-to-day activities of business and government leaders.

Behind the headlines of every alleged ethical infraction is a more detailed event that isn't as simple as the headline might indicate. In most cases there is a fine line between the ethical and unethical conduct.

Except in areas clearly covered by governmental, regulatory, or trade guidelines, the field of ethics is a clouded one. What is considered ethical behavior by one individual or group might be a subject of concern to another. And there is no single guide on which all individuals and groups can base their behavior.

Aware that there is an increasing interest in the ethics of government and business, the Ethics Committee of the Mississippi Economic Council is studying into several aspects of the question of ethics. Its report, expected later this year, could provide guidance on this important topic. Only through ethical actions can the people have full confidence in business and governmental institutions.

C. EVERETT KOOP, M.D.

from the Surgeon General

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES • Public Health Service

An important decision facing many young people is whether and how to use alcoholic beverages.

Most teenagers have tried some alcoholic beverages by the time they graduate from high school. Studies have shown that as many of these youngsters approach early adulthood and become more independent of their families, their drinking increases both in frequency and in quantity.

Although alcohol dependency is not common among teenagers, experimenting with alcohol can result in many other serious consequences. Surveys have found that approximately 3 million young people ages 14-17 years old have problems with use of alcohol.

More than three million, or 27 percent, of all 10-12th graders drink at least once a week; more than half of these youths at their vulnerable age drink heavily at least once a week. Six percent of 12th graders report that they drink daily.

One of the most tragic consequences of youthful alcohol abuse is the high number of fatal automobile accidents. More people between 15 and 24 years old die from this cause than from any other.

Countless others also are killed or injured in accidents involving teens and alcohol.

In October, Secretary of Health and Human Services Richard Schweiker declared that alcohol abuse by young Americans and its resulting tragedies are a "challenge to our national conscience," and initiated a major offensive to mobilize public and private action against the problem.

The Secretary's initiative includes conferences in 10 U.S. metropolitan areas to help teachers, school principals, PTA members, and others in the educational and health system expand alcohol abuse prevention and education programs; another series of meetings to train persons to assess the need for and develop community-based treatment services for youth; and a Secretariat Conference in Washington, D.C. in Spring 1983 to draw national attention to the work of students themselves against drinking and driving.

One youth movement, Students Against Driving Drunk, has spread rapidly from its inception in a small Massachusetts community, and there are similar efforts around the country.

"We cannot bring back those who have died, but we can spare others," Secretary Schweiker said in launching his drive against teenage alcohol abuse.

Besides the carnage it causes on the road, teenage drinking causes other problems. It can interfere with day-to-day relationships with friends and family members, or with school work.

It often is a contributing factor when teenagers get in trouble with school authorities, or with law-enforcement agencies.

As a physician, I have seen many cases of alcoholism which started with adolescent alcohol abuse.

For me, it therefore is especially troubling to see disruption in family and peer relationships caused by teenage alcohol abuse.

I know the effects can be long-term, as well as short-term.

Preventing teenage drinking problems is a challenge facing our entire society. It must be solved by the combined efforts of many sectors.

Of crucial importance are parents' attitudes toward drinking.

Parents are the earliest role models for teenagers. If a teenager sees his or her mother and father practicing moderate drinking, such as refusing unwanted alcoholic beverages even when there is social pressure to drink, the chances are better that the youngster also will adopt healthy drinking attitudes and habits.

A major role in preventing alcohol abuse also can be played by educators, health professionals, and community agencies through providing alcohol education programs.

In fact, programs proven to be the most effective have extended from schools into comprehensive programs aimed at educating the entire community, enlisting the collaboration of parents and community organizations and institutions.

A variety of approaches have included providing alternative activities, influencing attitudes through the media, and promoting community involvement.

States and local communities across the Nation currently are conducting media campaigns and other prevention activities in connection with public education and prevention programs of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism.

Adults involved in prevention programs also have a chance to examine their own attitudes about alcohol.

If you are interested in becoming involved in alcohol abuse prevention for young people, contact your State office for alcohol abuse and alcoholism. Or write to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, Division of Prevention and Research Dissemination, Room 16C-10, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20857.

I call upon you to join the campaign against the tragedy of teenage alcohol abuse.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Hancock County Youth Court's Volunteer Counselor training program includes sessions on adolescents and alcohol drug abuse.

The Youth Court is the local agency which is most likely to deal with teenagers experiencing serious problems as a result of alcohol use and abuse.

Persons interested in the Youth Court programs should contact Ms. Brenda Bailey, 467-7945.

In addition, members of the Bay St. Louis Junior Auxiliary conduct educational programs in this community for students and parents on alcohol abuse by teenagers.

Persons interested in the Junior Auxiliary program should contact Mrs. Lana Noonan at 467-5062.

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department speaker's bureau includes Sheriff Ronald Peterson and Investigator Alvin Ladner who are available on request from groups to make presentations on the alcohol and drug abuse situation in Hancock County among both youngsters and adults.

The Bay-Waveland Group of Alcoholics Anonymous sponsors a young people's meeting at St. Augustine Seminary in Bay St. Louis at 8 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Teenagers are welcome. For information on the AA program, call 467-6414.

Bay P.D. charges 5 with truck theft

By BRENT MACEY

The Bay St. Louis Police Department arrested five Bay St. Louis men and three juveniles Tuesday in connection with the theft of some $1,900 in tools and personal items from a truck which was parked near the intersection of Sycamore and St. Francis Streets in Bay St. Louis Dec. 21.

Charged with burglary of an auto is Donald Shaffer, 22, of 526 Booker Street; Marcellus Jones, 26, of 202 Watts Street; Devon Washington, 19, of 444 Ballentine Street; William Washington, 21, of 420 Washington Street; and Scott Nichols, 19, of 516 St. Francis Street.

Bond was set at $2,500 each. The three juveniles were turned over to the Hancock County Youth Court.

The truck was owned by David Williams of Baton Rouge.

Police Chief Douglas Williams reported approximately $1,000 in items have been recovered.

Police Department Investigator Murray Ladner made the arrests with assistance from Williams, Patrolmen Larry Ladner and Bob Butler; Auxiliary Deputy Jim Koch; and Auxiliary Chief Dan Plaisance.

RECKLESS DRIVING

A Bay St. Louis man was charged with reckless driving, improper lane usage and carrying a concealed weapon Friday by the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Mark Bankston, 23, of Route 4 Box 347, was arrested after Bankston's four-wheel-drive pickup truck collided into the railing of the Bay St. Louis Bridge, Bay Police Chief Douglas Williams said.

Bankston was taken to Hancock General Hospital in Bay St. Louis for treatment and then transported to the Hancock County Jail.

Bond was set at $1,250.

Bay Patrolman Tom Pustay made the arrest. He was assisted by Investigator Murray Ladner, Patrolmen Bob Butler, Alan Bowers, Anderson Hall and Auxiliary Patrolman Judy Childs.

HOLLYWOOD SET?—Marilynn Jones, 9, of Natchez started her 4-H Club career off right by winning third place in the State 4-H Photography Contest with this photo titled, "The Church in the Woods." Marilyn shot the photo, originally in color, as part of a school report on local landmarks. Marilyn said the church is located at Kingston, a community near Natchez. In addition to being a good subject for still photography, Marilyn said the church also has been a location for movies such as "Huckleberry Finn."

Bar raided

The Hancock County Sheriff's Department raided a bar in northern Hancock County Monday morning after hearing numerous complaints about people using drugs at the establishment, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated Monday.

Arrested and charged with possession of concealed weapons at Our Place Lounge on Caesar Road is John Shaw, 23, of the Steep Hollow Community in Pearl River County.

Peterson said Shaw had a 9 millimeter gun tucked into the back of his pants and also had a .22 caliber deringer in his pocket.

No drugs were found.

Peterson said the establishment was closed by order of the sheriff's department.

Man charged with theft

By BRENT MACEY

A Covington, La. man was arrested Sunday at 10 a.m. on charges of arson and grand larceny of and automobile.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson stated Rena F. Dunhurst, 23, allegedly stole an automobile belonging to Lois Haas Christmas Eve night at the Kiln Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Kiln.

The car was driven to an isolated area and then set on fire, Peterson said.

Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay stated the car contained Christmas presents, many of which were torn open. Other presents were stolen, he said.

He alleged that Dunhurst set fire to the automobile to destroy any finger prints in the vehicle.

Dunhurst was released the same day from the Hancock County Jail under a $5,000 bond.

He is scheduled to appear before Justice Court Judge Bruce Necaise Jan. 19.

Sheriff's Department Deputy Nathan Hoda made the arrest. An investigation is being conducted to determine if other people were involved.

SHOOTING INCIDENT

A Hancock County man was listed in stable condition Monday in South Mississippi State Hospital in Laurel after being shot Sunday night in the leg with a shotgun.

Phillip Ladner, 26, of Necaise Crossing was shot at Mayberry's Bar on Hwy. 53 in northern Hancock County at approximately 11:15 p.m., Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson reported.

AUDIOMETRIC CHANGES

The prevalence of hearing deficiencies has been called to the attention of the public. In a selected study conducted by the U.S. Army, it was shown that as many as 15% of the population had developed a loss of hearing ability ranging from 10 to 30 dB. This loss of hearing ability was caused by noise exposure. The study also showed that a significant number of people who had developed a loss of hearing ability were unaware of the fact that they had a hearing deficiency. This is why it is so important to have your hearing checked regularly. Hearing is one of our most important senses and it is essential to have it checked regularly. FEEDING INDEX

Cattlemen in Hancock County are now able to pinpoint feed requirements in harsh winter weather. A winter feeding advisory issued by the National Weather Service and the Extension Service resumes in December.

The advisory consists of a daily feed index to inform cattlemen of the percentage of extra feed needed over the base ration in cold weather. Cold, wet weather results in higher index numbers and means unsheltered animals will need more hay and energy supplements.

The index numbers are easy to apply. For example, if each animal normally eats 20 pounds of hay per day, but the feed index is 30, then each animal will need 30 percent more hay, or six pounds in this case (20 x .30 = 6). If the index falls back to zero, resume feeding the normal 20 pounds.

Cattlemen will be given the index trend up to four days in advance. This will help producers to gradually increase or decrease rations over the time period and also plan feed and labor requirements.

The index will help reduce overfeeding and wasted hay by providing cattlemen with a more accurate method of feeding correct amounts. Successful use of the index depends on knowing the maintenance ration for the herd. This information is available at the County Extension Office.

Listen for the index on weekdays during noon on NOAA Weather Radio and on numerous AM and FM stations including affiliates of the Mississippi Agri-News Network.

CROP SURVEY

You may be among the sample of farmers in the state who have received a questionnaire from the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service pertaining to 1982 crop acreage and production.

The survey is being conducted to gather information about acreage and production of crops grown in 1982 in the state. About 25,000 farmers are being asked to complete the questionnaires.

Crop production accounted for almost 62 percent of the state's cash farm income in 1981. For this reason, it is important that the results of the 1982 survey be as accurate as possible.

If you received a questionnaire, the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service requests that you fill it out and return it promptly. Crop and livestock statisticians will use the findings along with data from other farmers to determine county, state and national estimates. All information on individual farms is kept confidential.

A report on the survey will be published at 3 p.m., Jan. 13.

FIREWOOD AND INSECTS

Anyone who supplements their home heating by burning firewood may be alarmed by the number of insects often seen on the firewood. Many of these insects are harmless. The association of the insects and the firewood involves primarily food or shelter for the insects. Many of the insects are only looking for overwintering places under loose bark or in hollow wood.

Some insects, like roaches, are more troublesome than others. Roaches hide under loose bark and usually are more of a problem where wood has been stacked over a period of time.

Other insects such as beetles, termites and carpenter ants also may be found in firewood. Many of these aren't likely to be established in the home through firewood because they usually leave the firewood when their colonies are disturbed.

You can take steps to prevent insects from entering the home by firewood. Before carrying wood into the house, knock the sticks against something solid to jar the insects loose. Also, don't stack firewood in or against the house or other buildings.

Use up the wood you carry in the house in a day or two and keep it stacked in cold areas of the house, such as the garage or unheated porch. Before next spring, be sure to remove all firewood from inside the house.

It's not necessary to treat firewood with insecticides to kill the insects. It's dangerous, and it can be expensive.

PAUSE THAT REFRESHES

All of us associated with agriculture have plenty to think about these days. Farmers, in particular, are faced with very low crop prices. The thing that's staying on their minds is how to survive another year of low prices.

The holiday season is a good time to push aside all these worries and look at the good side. If we look at things positively, we realize we all have so much to be thankful for.

The Christmas season message is one of renewal and a spirit of optimism. The feeling is one that should have a lasting influence both in our lives and in the lives of those we influence.

This Christmas, take a pause from life's problems to count your blessings. Take a break from worrying about low crop prices, paying the bills and all of life's problems. The effect may surprise you.

All of us at the Hancock County Extension Office wish you a Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

Big bird spotted in Shoreline Park

An eight-foot tall bird which escaped from the residence of Judge Levy on Crump Road in Hancock County earlier this month was spotted in Shoreline Park Monday by a man fishing near First Street, Hancock County Investigator Alvin Ladner reported Tuesday.

"We feel it definitely was the bird because of footprints discovered," Ladner said about the emu, which is native to Australia.

Although the fisherman called the sheriff's department after sighting the bird, the bird was gone by the time Deputy David Garcia and the Levy's caretaker arrived at the scene.

NORDA joins Sea Grant to clear Gulf bottom debris

The Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity at NSTL is helping the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium to pinpoint the locations of misplaced bridge debris that is causing problems for shrimpers in the Gulf of Mexico.

After Hurricane Fredrick destroyed Alabama's Dauphin Island drawbridge in 1979, the debris had to be cleared away before new construction could start.

Authorities approved the dumping of 219,000 tons of bridge rubble to create an artificial fishing reef 11 miles south of Dauphin Island.

Portions of the road bed and guard rails never made it to the reef, and the Alabama Sea Grant Advisory Service started getting calls from shrimpers who were tearing up their nets and losing gear, as well as time and shrimp, in the zone south of the island.

During this past summer, Advisory Service specialists joined a diving excursion that located five different dumping sites of bridge rubble several miles apart and all outside the target reef area.

Sea Grant authorities then set administrative wheels in motion to establish a cooperative project with NORDA to find out where else bridge debris may have been dumped in the 18 to 25 square mile area between the artificial reef and the island.

"The rubble is keeping fishermen out of an area that used to produce a lot of shrimp for them," Bill Hosking, coordinator of the Alabama advisory service, says. "The intent of this project with NORDA is to help these fishermen."

Hosking and Peter Fleischer, a NORDA marine geologist, are coordinating the project, using NORDA's side scan sonar to produce a record that is, in many ways, similar to aerial photographs.

"Side scan sonar sends out a fan-shaped impulse to each side of the ship and echoes off a whole area rather than one point," Fleischer says. "You get a two-dimensional echo, in effect an image of the ocean bottom."

These images or sonographs were acquired in December and are now being pieced together and reduced.

Man facing charges of attempted rape

By BRENT MACEY

A 25-year-old North Carolina man who was working on an oyster boat out of Pass Christian was arrested Tuesday and charged with attempted rape and indecent exposure following an investigation by both the Waveland and Pass Christian Police Departments.

James A. Gibbs, 25, who was staying at the Holiday Ranch Apartments in Pass Christian, was taken into police custody from a boat in the Pass Christian Harbor by Pass Christian and Waveland Police Tuesday.

He was charged by the Waveland Police Department later that day in connection with two separate incidents in Waveland's Choctaw Plaza on Dec. 12 and 19.

Waveland Police Department Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille alleged Gibbs grabbed a woman in her twenties in the parking lot on Dec. 12 and attempted to rape her while forcing her against a car.

"The woman managed to escape," he said.

Tartavouille claimed Gibbs exposed himself to another woman, also in her twenties, on Dec. 19.

Gibbs is being held in the Hancock County Jail under $2,500 bond.

WOMAN SHOT

A Bay St. Louis woman was shot in the abdomen with a small caliber gun Saturday evening. The bullet apparently went into her right side and came out through her leg.

Janelle Bourgeois, 37, of 167 Felicite Street in Bay St. Louis was admitted to Hancock General Hospital at 10:45 p.m.

She was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital and released several days later.

Waveland Police Department Investigator Robert (Poochie) Tartavouille stated Bourgeois told him that she had purchased gas at a Junior Food Store in Waveland Saturday evening when a man with a pointed beard drew a gun on her.

Tartavouille said the woman claimed that the man demanded to be driven to New Orleans.

"She said he stuck the gun in her abdomen and she reached for the keys and the gun went off."

Tartavouille stated Bourgeois told him the man forced her to drive to the end of the American Legion Pier in Bay St. Louis.

"After she got to the pier she said the man changed his mind when he saw all the blood," Tartavouille said.

The woman said the man then drove her to a pay phone at the intersection of South Beach Boulevard and Washington Street in Bay St. Louis.

"She said the phone was out of order so she walked to a house on Third Street and called a relative to take her to the hospital," Tartavouille said.

The car was located in Waveland the next day.

CAST OF CHARACTERS in "Quiet As a Nun," British biographer Lady Antonia Fraser's first whodunit on the Mobil-funded Mystery! three successive Tuesdays at 9 p.m. on PBS are clockwise from upper left, a TV journalist (Maria Aitken) who investigates a nun's death at a convent school; a missing schoolgirl (Patsy Kensit); a mysterious nun (Doran Godwin), and the convent's Mother Superior (Renee Asherson). The mini-series can be seen on Mississippi ETV, Channel 19, Biloxi, and Channel 13, Hancock Cable.

Public radio station construction contracts let

The Mississippi Authority for Educational Television has been awarded construction permits by the Federal Communications Commission for an eight-station public radio network in Mississippi.

In order to conserve expenses the radio transmitters will be located on the same sites as ETV's present television transmitters: in Jackson, Oxford, Meridian, Mississippi State, Bogalusa, Biloxi, Greenwood and Bay.

Although various community groups will be organized by ETV for local programming input and exchange, Mississippi ETV's statewide public radio network is not connected with any other organization or radio station in Mississippi. It is seeking public donations.

An independent group, J. C. Maxwell, is planning its own public radio station, which has been licensed for construction in Jackson.

The first station in the network is expected to be operational within 12 months, according to F. Lee Morris, executive director of the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television.

The activation of the first station is dependent on factory deliveries of equipment and the installation of the equipment, Morris said.

"Public radio, like public TV," said Morris, "will add a dimension of broadcasting service that has been unavailable to the majority of Mississippians. We plan to offer good music, special programs for the blind, public affairs broadcasts, specials on government, programs of interest to minority groups and a variety of cultural programs. We've been at the forefront of educational television for more than a decade, and now we hope to operate a very strong public radio network, too," Morris said.

Mississippi's public radio network is expected to be on the air seven days a week, 19 hours a day, or 133 hours a week. Much of the programming will be locally produced, but the bulk of the day's programming will come from National Public Radio, a network that provides approximately 115 hours of programming a week to its 273 member public radio stations. This programming includes two of NPR's most popular offerings, the award-winning "All Things Considered" and "Morning Edition."

Another programming feature is a special service for the blind including readings from major newspapers and magazines. A special adaptor is required for this service so that regular programming can be tuned in when the adaptor is not in use.

There are other programming sources also, such as the Southern Educational Communications Association of which Mississippi ETV is a member.

"Since we already have the land, buildings, towers and microwave system," said Morris, "our radio network can be implemented with a very cost-effective approach."

In addition, ETV's present staff members will absorb some of the responsibilities of the new radio network, another cost-effective measure, Morris said, and the agency will initially hire only about 18 new persons for radio jobs.

SENIOR CITIZEN HAPPENINGS

By EVE McDONALD CHRISTMAS PARTY

Our Christmas party at the Bay American Legion Hall was a big success. We are indebted to the Quilting Class for most of the expenses, and we do thank Mrs. Leroy and her wonderful ladies.

Pat Harvill, representing Riemann's Funeral Home, gave out those tasty little boxes of Whitmans candy to all present. We thank them too for their yearly gifts to our seniors.

Bo and Dee provided the music, and we were happy to have Fib Johnson sing a couple of numbers for us.

RSVP assisted us with some prizes and help, though they did not "give the party" with us as reported by the Echo. They had a lovely open house at the Center on the 17th for their Christmas party.

Our staff, with Beth Fayre as head chef, volunteers assisting, did the planning and work. We sure thank them for a lovely party.

PAPER DRIVE OVER

Wouldn't you know it! The 16-wheeler came for the paper we have been saving right in the middle of our Christmas party! Well, we got it all loaded by 9:30 p.m. with much help from staff and their families and friends.

Our biggest helpers were a crew of young friends of Rosine's sons Douglas and Gary. All of her boys worked along with Beth's father, Carol's children and friends, my husband, Jack Smith, and staff, plus young neighborhood recruits. Thanks to all!!!

We haven't gotten a check yet, but all the money goes to the Center Advisory account for supplies at the Center.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLASS

Bob Hubbard, new alderman in Waveland, will start a class in photography here at the Center starting in January if we have enough interest.

Please call the Center and tell us if you are interested and when would be best for you. We are tentatively planning for Friday morning. You will need your own camera and film.

Bob is excited about teaching this class, and we are proud to have him. It would be nice to have our pictures turn out with the people having heads and those sort of things. Film is so expensive. I do hate to get half a subject in a picture!

Happy New Year from all of us at the Center.

Federal telephone tax triples Jan. 1

South Central Bell District Manager Don Roberts reports a current 1% Federal Excise Tax on local telephone service will rise to 3% beginning Jan. 1.

Roberts said that the telephone excise tax increase is part of a package adopted by Congress in August 1982 that boosts taxes by $98.9 billion over a three-year period. The tax will be 3% through 1983, 1984, and 1985. It then would be abolished, unless Congress acts again.

The telephone tax was imposed by Congress during World War I as a "temporary" measure. Although repealed briefly after the war, it was reinstituted during the depression and at one time rates were as high as 25 percent on long distance calls and 15 percent on local service.

For nearly 20 years prior to 1972, the excise tax was 10 percent for most local and long distance telephone service. In 1973, and each year thereafter until 1981, the rate was reduced one percentage point as part of a plan to phase it out entirely.

THANK YOU

My sincere thanks is extended to the dedicated voters of Hancock County.

I'm honored that you've elected me to serve as your new Circuit Court Clerk.

ATTENTION HANCOCK COUNTY AGRICULTURAL PROPERTY OWNER:

The Mississippi State Tax Commission directs that all properties shall be assessed at market value, unless the land is deemed to be used for agricultural purposes. Miss. Code of 1972, Section 27-35-50 qualifies agricultural land for use value as follows: "The land shall be deemed to be used for agricultural purposes when it is devoted to the commercial production of crops and other commercial products of soil, including but not limited to the production of fruit and timber or the raising of livestock or poultry." Commercial production then is the only limiting factor. In order to qualify for use value of agricultural land, the following criteria must be met:

1. Any land that is producing a crop or commercial product of the soil must have a gross income of at least $50.00 per acre or must be over 20 acres in size.
2. The taxpayer must apply for use value between January 1 and April 1 of each year by making application as provided in Section 27-35-49 Mississippi Code of 1972 annotated. This application must be on the form prescribed by the State Tax Commission.
3. A three acre homestead will be valued separately for each parcel that has a residence. This homestead will be valued at market price.
4. Improvements to the land such as dikes for catfish ponds will be added at cost.

In accord with the directions from the Mississippi State Tax Commission, this office is forwarding applications to all known property owners for land use value on property. Please return this application to the Tax Assessor's Office, Post Office Box 192, Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi 39520, prior to April 1st. As always, this office will be happy to assist you in this endeavor. If you do not receive your application after the 1st week of January and are eligible, please contact this office and forms will be provided.

Book Review

By JOE PILET
Coordinator

Friends of the Library
Elizabeth Hillery Sullivan, well-known resident of South Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis, has done it again! Her latest book of poems Louisiana Lullaby is just off the press.

The volume has class: a slender easy to hold book with its rich maroon hard back lettered in gold.

The jacket was designed by Michael Ledet and depicts a colored reproduction of an oil painting of a Louisiana swamp scene from the brush of artist John Korver.

The poems are word pictures — "Scenes long vanished from present Louisiana but vital and alive" and interspersed are priceless reproductions of paintings, photographs and "snap shots" including several of G. Sollberger's works, Bob Hubbard's familiar Little Brown Road, and Isabel Levy's painting of The Brouloutour Courtyard.

Sullivan's well chosen words sing a song of Old New Orleans, that Creole City commanding a view of the Mississippi River.

She is well qualified for she descends from aristocratic Louisiana French families and lived in New Orleans many years, spending summers in Bay St. Louis and Biloxi.

She made a study of poetry at Loyola University and became one of the more productive members of The Poetry Society of New Orleans.

A few skillful lines from her poem 'Awareness' sum up the philosophy of this gentle woman's approach to life:

"Never should comforting thoughts be lost, Nor beauty that we can share."

Poetry — words with the softness of handmade lace, words with the shining, glowing, gleam of well faceted gems — the right word — in the right place — to truly and accurately express the heart-felt thoughts of a lady in love with beauty — those are the poems of Elizabeth Hillery Sullivan that are to be found in Louisiana Lullaby.

Sullivan's work will be available in the Hancock County Library System after Jan. 6, and currently at Rosebud Antiques on Central Avenue in Bay St. Louis.

Minacapelli plans New Year's Eve 'Fiddler' opening

Minacapelli's Dinner Theater in Sildell has scheduled a New Year's Eve opening of its next production, the immortal musical comedy "Fiddler On The Roof" slated for an indefinite run.

Based on the stories by Sholem Aleichem, "Fiddler" holds all records as the longest running musical comedy in the history of American theater, and no musical in history has garnered as many honors.

"Fiddler On The Roof" tells the story of the hilarious and touching trials and tribulations of Tevye, a Jewish milkman in a small Russian village at the turn of the century, in his efforts to raise five daughters in the "traditional" manner in a world of rapidly changing values, and how he comes to grips with these changes, both in his daughters and himself.

The show is punctuated by such unforgettable musical numbers as "Tradition," "Matchmaker," "If I Were a Rich Man," "Miracle of Miracles," "Sunrise, Sunset," "Now I Have Everything" and "Far From The Home I Love."

Heading the largest cast ever to appear on Minacapelli's stage are Elliott Keener as Tevye, the milkman and Barbara Bernard as Golda, his wife.

Keener is no stranger to the Minacapelli stage, having previously appeared in "A Funny Thing Happened on The Way to The Forum," "Come Blow Your Horn" and "Champagne Complex" among others.

He has also been seen as "The Baker" on Channel 6 and has appeared in such movies as "Close Encounters of The Third Kind," "Savage Bees," and "Back Roads."

Ms. Bernard is making her debut at Minacapelli's, although she is certainly no stranger to local audiences, having appeared at Le Petit Theater, and as a resident member of the New Orleans Opera Company.

Appearing as the three oldest daughters are Dona Keener (Tzeitel), Lesley Lennox (Hodel) and Kathleen Bryan (Chava).

Ms. Keener was last seen at Minacapelli's in "Two by Two," while Ms. Lennox made her Minacapelli's debut in "Guys & Dolls." This is Ms. Bryan's debut at Minacapelli's.

Lazar Wolf, the butcher, will be portrayed by Charles Ferrara, last seen at Minacapelli's in "The Odd Couple," while Perchik, the student, will be played by Jim Chimento.

Chimento played the title role in last season's highly successful "The Rainmaker" at Le Petit Theater.

Kevin Driscoll, another veteran Minacapelli performer ("Guys & Dolls" and "See How They Run") plays Motel, the tailor, while Jesse Biso, a newcomer to the Sildell theater plays Fyedka, suitor to Tzeitel and Chava respectively. Cloverelle Loyscano plays the outrageous Yente, the matchmaker.

Also appearing in the huge cast are: Leo Juran (Rabbi), Jim Jones (Avram), Lyndah Moreau (Fruma Sarah), Dotie Turner (Grandmother Tzeitel), Steve McQueen (Nachum), Herbie John (Russian), Katherine Maher (Shaindel), A. L. Alonzo (Mordcha), Larry Von Ritzman (Mendel), Robin Yancie (Shprintze) and Betsy Chapman (Bielke).

The production is under the direction of Bob Kearney, assisted by Denny Childs. Ed Morvant is choreographer, and Becky Childs music director, Kris Keller is stage manager.

With the exception of New Year's Eve, performances are Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. preceded by a buffet at 6:30 p.m. with a special Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. preceded by a 1 p.m. buffet.

For information on the special New Year's Eve performance, or for reservations for any performance call 504-643-9671 in Sildell.

Friends of Library
Antique jewelry will be the topic of a program to be sponsored by Friends of the Library Thursday, Jan. 6 beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Main Library on Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. Elizabeth Claggett, an authority on antique jewelry will use slides and display choice objects embracing the Renaissance, Georgian, Victorian and Art Nouveau and Art Deco.

Terminology of jewelry as well as properties of gems and metals will also be covered.

Sponsoring Mrs. Claggett is the Reverend Mark Jumper of the newly established Diamondhead Community Church.

Mrs. Claggett, a graduate of Smith College in Northampton, Mass., together with her husband, Stuart Claggett, moved to the Gulf Coast two years ago from Lake Forest, Ill., and now live in Diamondhead.

For five years prior to this move Mrs. Claggett owned and operated an antique jewelry and silver store in Half Day, Ill.

Her shop was said by the Chicago Tribune to be "one of the more interesting shops in the area."

"Mrs. Claggett said: 'I plan to spend about 20 minutes with slides and comments, after that I will be happy to answer questions or to identify and appraise any jewelry submitted by those in attendance.'

Since gem stones are fascinating and exciting objects it is expected that the January program will attract a large audience.

High value has been placed on gems since earliest times due to their unique properties.

For example, the depth and purity of emeralds inspired reverence in the Columbian societies and large emeralds became the object of worship according to local Aztec whose gods, Gems and Jewels, was wide recognition internationally.

King James version of the Bible contains more than 1,700 references to gems!

What are gems? Gems are minerals; however, not all minerals are useful as gems. Of about 2,400 mineral species only about one hundred have been cut into gemstones.

Marketing of gemstones and properties that are factors in determining the worth of jewelry will be covered in Mrs. Claggett's talk.

Following the program, Mrs. Olive McKenna will lead the group in a songfest of tunes of yesteryears.

Refreshments will be served in the Crawford Memorial Room. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting. There is no admission charge. Students are welcome as well as winter visitors to the Gulf Coast.

Some people believe you can ward off vampires by painting an extra set of eyes on the forehead of a large black dog.

TREE FARM VISIT—Students and teachers of Christ Episcopal Day School of Bay St. Louis, recently visited Holly Ridge Farm in Pass Christian to select Christmas trees for their classrooms. Bob Piney took the children on a truck ride through the fields and showed them the different stages of tree development and what chemicals were used to protect and produce growth. Mrs. Helen Kohl provided a demonstration on weath and garland construction. The Kohl family of Pass Christian owns the tree farm on Menge Avenue, which has only been in operation for the past few years. Participating in the

PW scholarship awarded to Willis

Linda K. Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson of Bay St. Louis, has been awarded a scholarship from the Business and Professional Women's Foundation, Washington, D.C.

Ms. Willis is a senior in chemical engineering at Mississippi State University.

The scholarship recognizes outstanding academic achievements in chemical engineering.

She is a member of Tau Beta Pi engineering honor society and maintains a 3.9 grade point average.

She plans to complete degree requirements in December, 1983.

Ms. Willis graduated from Bay High in 1971, attended Pearl River School of Practical Nursing, and graduated from Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Jeff Davis Campus in Biloxi with special honors in 1979.

HOLIDAY FISHING—While fishing off the American Legion Pier in Bay St. Louis Tuesday afternoon, these Louisiana fishermen, from left, Rick Myer of New Orleans, Randy Jackson of Shreveport, and Jason Nardi of New Orleans snagged these three fish using shrimp for bait. Nardi's drum fish topped 30 pounds while the drum fish caught by Jackson weighed approximately 12 pounds. Myer holds a six pound sheep head. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

By David H. Jones

(Critic's Note: I hope that the following incident didn't occur. I received this poem COD, its author anonymous, with a simple postscript "Gone further south for the winter." The letter had been handwritten in ink using what looked to be a long quill of Australian variety. At its best, it offers a "bird's-eye view" of events in recent weeks. At its worst, it may represent a journalistic fiasco that is simply "for the birds." Your judgement awaits.)

T'was the day before yesterday

In the year of Ron Reagan,

And the TV news was filled with

DeLoe, Tylenol and

Israel's Menachem Begin.

The stockings had been hung

In the pawnshop with care,

While the cupboards and

refrigerator

stood open and bare.

Admired all this glittering gloom and depression,

I overheard discussion of the world-wide recession.

When suddenly there arose

such a clatter.

I sprang from my sofa to see what was the matter,

I blinked my eyes

To be sure of what I saw,

'Cause there in my yard

stood a bird at least eight foot tall.

He was nibbling at fruit

At the top of my tree,

"Meat on the table," I exclaimed

With holiday glee.

I ran to my gun cabinet,

And retrieved my .12 gauge,

But returning to the window

I tripped over the Echo's

front page

Emu Escapes

The headlines blared

But just like Thanksgiving

This bird wouldn't be spared:

Surely taking it alive

Would be a foolhard mission,

And couldn't be done

Without arousing hometown suspicion.

In fact, you'd need some kind of lengthy tool

Considering this baby had foot-long feet

And could kick like a mule.

So I decided to end it

But I must end it right,

End it and skin it.

And eat it tonight.

So I crumpled the paper

And pitched it in the fire,

And turned off the lamp

As if to retire.

Then I crouched

And opened the door,

And sighted my prey

Just like before.

The bird must've sensed

In the shadows I lurked,

Because he stiffened up quickly

And turned with a jerk,
Head feathers bristling
Ears perked and listening
The wings up and flapping,
A dog down the street
Just started yapping.

With the door open
Only a peek,
And me aiming at this
Feathery freak
For a moment I considered
This isn't very fair
And in that moment
The bird was off in a tear,
Speeding down the road,
At way over eighty,
The bird almost hit
A screaming, grey-haired lady.

I dashed out the door
My gun held high,
The lady passed out
When she saw this gun-totin' guy.

The night was cool and wet
Yet you could see all the stars,
And the bird ran for a parking lot
Filled with small foreign cars,
Amidst the Toyotas and Dat-suns

Amidst the Subarus,
Hit my quarry
The elusive emu.

I honked the horn
On a small two-door,
The emu stood up
Stiff as a board,
I fired and missed
Lighting the sky like day,
And the bird went Beep-
Beep
In a Road-Runner way.

By now a crowd had gathered
All 'round the lot,
And I was afraid
I was hunting for naught.
As I saw the emu
Standing in the sales office door,
Looking at the crowd,
And wondering what for,
...why had this crowd
gathered
...and why had they stayed
...and why did they want him
In his big old bird grave.

I laid down my gun
Took a big sigh,
Sensing there wouldn't be any emu
Boiled, battered or fried.
The bird had fought a good fight
And wouldn't go down,
And now his legend will live
All over town.

For causing the excitement
I rounded folks up,
Took them to a pub
And told them "Drink up!"
And as they finished
The last of their brew,
Talk began again
About making emu stew.

MMMMMMMMMMMM—good!
The End

POOR POOH—Pooch Bear, played by Dee Ferrell of Waveland, finds himself in a precarious position during Hancock County Girl Scout Troop 27's rehearsal of Winnie the Pooh at the Bay Little Theatre on Boardman Street in Bay St. Louis. Kanga, Yvette Ladner of Bay St. Louis, slaps Pooh, who is stuck in a rabbit hole, while Rabbit, Linette Jones of Clermont Harbor, pulls Pooh's feet with Roo, Bahlyyih Schwabacher of Bay St. Louis, right. A final show is scheduled today at 2:30 p.m. at the theatre. Admission is $1. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

January electric bills to include added refunds

Mississippi Power Company reports customers will receive credit on January bills as part of the utility's $55 million settlement with Peabody Coal Company in 1981, according to Alan Barton, president of the Gulfport-based firm.

Under procedures approved by Mississippi Public Service Commission, eligible shippers in the $1.5 million refund will be those customers of record for November 1982.

The refund will be based on kilowatt-hour usage from December 1981 to November 1982 and will appear as a credit on customers' electric bills.

"For most residential customers this will average around $2, some more or less depending on kilowatt-hour consumption," Barton said.

The refund results from settlement of a breach of contract lawsuit initiated by Mississippi Power Company seven years ago on behalf of its customers against the coal company for failure to deliver coal under conditions of a long-term contract.

Last year Mississippi Power Company recovered and refunded $40 million of the $55 million. The settlement provides for Peabody Coal Company to pay the utility $15 million in December 1982, 1983, 1984, and 1985 and $9 million in December 1986.

NAVOCEANO CELEBRATES—The Naval Oceanographic Office observed the completion of 152 years of continuous service to the Navy, the nation, and the world this month with ceremonies at NSTL in Hancock County. The event, hosted by the Southwest Mississippi Council of the Navy League, was highlighted by the presentation of a painting to NAVOCEANO by the Greater Gulf Coast Arts Council. The seascape was done by Coast artist Jean Carter Van Arsdall, left. Representing the Arts Council were Mrs. Harriett Leckich, president;

Mrs. William Haynie, executive director; and Mr. Robert Meyer, director of the Museum Board of the Council. Representing the Navy League were Boyd Rhodes, president; Larry Ray, first vice-president; and Rear Admiral Clyde Van Arsdall, USN (Retd.), treasurer. NAVOCEANO, which provides environmental data to support worldwide Naval operations, employs more than 1,000 people and controls an annual budget of $170 million.

Hancock Library Friends program to feature antique jewelry expert

Four prominent Hancock County citizens have been appointed by Mrs. Joe Pilet, coordinator for Friends of the Hancock County Library System, to serve as an advisory board to the group.

The committee is composed of Dr. Marion J. Wolfe Sr., and Messrs. Norton Haas Sr., Charles F. Gottschalk, and Roy Baxter.

Mrs. Pilet said: "I selected this group of distinguished men because they are well known, well liked, and have made excellent contributions to our community."

Purpose of the committee, Pilet said, is to formulate goals for 1983 which are realistic and should be given priority in The Friends' endeavor to be of service to the library system in Hancock County.

Pilet said all goals, plans, and programs will receive the approval of the Library Board prior to final acceptance.

"Our responsibility," said the coordinator, "is to promote the services of our fine library system which offers a wealth of materials for all ages, all interests, and almost all conditions."

She pointed out the availability of large print books, "talking books," reference books, popular magazines and periodicals as well as information service.

On the first Thursday of each month beginning at 7:30 p.m. Friends of the Library presents a program provided by talented persons interested in promoting the cultural climate of Hancock County.

The programs are varied and there is no charge for admission. All interested persons are invited.

The Jan. 6 program features Mrs. Elizabeth Claggett whose slide-lecture is "All About Antique Jewelry."

USM nursing grads score high rate

Graduates of the University of Southern Mississippi's baccalaureate nursing department received a 91 percent pass rate on the State Board Examination recently, said Gerry Cadenhead, chairman of the department.

Of the seven baccalaureate programs in the state, this new percentage puts USM in the number two slot. "Our goal is, of course, 100 percent," Ms. Cadenhead said. In the past USM students have averaged 76 to 78 percent on the exam.

Nursing is a thorough and sometimes difficult major, demanding much from the students. The USM School of Nursing has a higher ACT requirement for its students — 18 — compared to 15 for regular college admission. Also, students must participate in a nursing achievement test and if they do not score in the top 50 percentile they have to attend a review of the content of the test and retake it.

Not only must nursing students meet high requirement while in college, but they must face the State Board to become registered.

There is a reason for this certain exam being so precise and difficult. "The basis of any licensing exam is to protect the public against incompetent practitioners," Ms. Cadenhead said.

The fact that USM students did so well on the last State Board Exam reflects the School of Nursing's ability to educate responsible and intelligent students. The advantage of the USM program is the broad-based education the students receive.

"Many schools don't have that kind of interaction with other disciplines," she said, referring to programs not included in university settings.

Also, the curriculum studied at USM's School of Nursing is based on Ordán's Self Care Defect Theory. "Every person has abilities and limits to meet their health care needs and when their limits exceed their abilities, that's when the nurse steps in," the theory states.

"The faculty has done a good job in taking that theoretic base and applying it to a clinical setting," Ms. Cadenhead said.

"We're certainly pleased and we're very proud of our graduates. We do try to teach the process rather than just the fact," she said.

English professor seeks works on Hank Williams

Dr. Patricia Grierson, associate professor of English at Jackson State University, is soliciting papers, poems and essays on the literary achievements of composer-singer Hank Williams Sr.

The works are being requested for inclusion in an anthology titled, "Hank Williams: Poet of the People." Deadline for submissions is April 15, 1983.

Several submissions have been received already from Tom T. Hall, country western singer; D.C. Berry, poet, University of Southern Mississippi; Jim Whitehead, poet and novelist; and Miller Williams, poet. Both Whitehead and Williams are employed at the University of Arkansas of Fayetteville.

Dr. Grierson has published more than 150 poems in various journals and anthologies in the United States, Canada and England.

She is a poetry winner in the 1982 Writers' Digest Writing Contest and the author of two books of poems; "Somewhere

NOTICE OF FILING APPLICATION FOR PERMISSION TO ESTABLISH A BRANCH OFFICE

This is to inform the public that under Section 54.14 of the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Reserve System, the Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association, 111 Court St., Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has filed an application with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board for permission to establish a branch office to be located at, or in the immediate vicinity of U.S. Interstate 10 and Diamondhead Dr., Hancock County, Mississippi.

Anyone who writes in favor or protest of the application, your comments may discuss, but are not limited to, the applicant's record of performance in helping to meet the credit needs of its local communities. Four copies must be sent to: "Supervisory Agent, Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, 1600 Tower Bldg., Little Rock, Arkansas, by January 16, 1983. An additional 20 days to submit comments may be obtained by writing to the Supervisory Agent by January 16, 1983.

Anyone sending a substantial protest may request a hearing on the application as set forth in Section 54.14(g). For a protest to be considered substantial, it must be written, received on time and contain at least the following information: 1) the specific matters objected to in the application or in the applicant's community service record; 2) facts, including any relevant economic or financial information, which support the protest; and 3) any adverse effects on the community or community which may result from approval of the application.

You may look at the application and all comments filed at the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, unless any such materials are exempt by law from public disclosure. If you have any questions concerning these procedures, contact the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock.

HOLLY TREE—While most people celebrate Christmas by decorating a pine or fir tree, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Manieri of 306 Hancock Street in Bay St. Louis decorate a holly tree each year with handmade ornaments which Mrs. Manieri has made. The tree was found growing in the wild on the Manieri's property in Hancock County. Mr. Manieri noted his family searches for the right holly tree each year. He said a pretty holly tree with a good shape is hard to find since many grow so closely to places that they are only one-sided. This year's find was especially nice, however. Some of the ways to do business with us are changing.

But we're still as close as your phone.

The telephone industry is changing—reorganizing. That means more options for you. And some changes in the way you do business with us. If you've done business with us lately, you may have gone to one of our retail outlets. Now, if you need help with phone service, call us first.

Call a South Central Bell service representative if you want to:

- order new phone service.
- change your existing service.
- ask a question about your bill.
- exchange or return sets purchased or leased from South Central Bell. (We cannot exchange or take back sets purchased or leased from other suppliers.)

Call South Central Bell's repair service if you have trouble with your service or with a phone set that is leased from South Central Bell. (For service or repair of phone sets that you own—whether they came from South Central Bell or another supplier—you should follow the warranty instructions or other maintenance arrangement made at the time of purchase.)

You'll find the phone numbers for your service representative and repair service in the front of the South Central Bell phone book. When you call us, in many cases we'll be able to complete your business or solve your problem while you're on the phone. In other cases, we may offer to mail equipment or parts to you. Or you may be referred to a phone company service center to complete your transaction. If so, we'll tell you where the nearest one is and when it's open.

Some things won't change. During 1983 South Central Bell will still provide you with dependable local and long distance phone service. We'll continue to be responsible for phones that residence and business customers now lease from us. And we'll continue to lease telephones (and to sell some selected phones) as long as they're available from inventory. (With regulatory approval, we do plan to offer single-line residence and business customers the option of buying telephones that are now leased from us.)

There'll be more changes in the telephone industry in the coming year or so as South Central Bell and other Bell operating companies are separated from AT&T and reorganized into regional companies. This change in organization, to take place in 1984, will affect significantly how you get and use telecommunications services.

But no matter how things change, South Central Bell is committed to seeing that certain things remain the same. We'll still have good, dependable people and the same goal: providing you with the best, most advanced telephone service at reasonable rates.

We'll keep you informed. But in the meantime, if you have any questions about the changes in the industry or about how to do business with us now, call 1 800 555-5000, toll free, 10 a.m.-11 p.m., Central Time, Monday through Friday. Or write for a free brochure, "Let's Talk About Change."

Let's Talk.

FANCY THAT!

Good news on the health front is that there has been a 22 percent decline in heart disease in the United States since 1968 and a consistent decline in lung cancer among those who quit smoking more than ten years ago.

If more Americans took better care of themselves, more good news could be forthcoming in the future. The United States Department of Health and Human Services says not smoking, eating a balanced diet, avoiding drug and alcohol abuse, exercising regularly, learning to deal with stress, taking proper safety precautions and using preventive health services, can help prolong your life. Attention Homeowners of Hancock County Homestead exemption forms will be mailed to you during the first week of January. Please sign the form, retain the blue copy and return the rest to us in the stamped addressed envelope.

If your exempt status has changed since last year, (become over 65, Social Security disability, etc.) do not sign the form mailed to you but come into the office and we will assist you in filing a new form.

If you are new to the community and are eligible for Homestead Exemption, please come to the office and we will assist you in making your application.

If your mailing address has changed, please correct same on the form before returning to us.

PLEASE NOTE: Under recently passed legislation, individual homeowners who were formerly ineligible for the homestead exemption rate because of businesses in the home, may now be eligible for a partial exemption. Please reapply for 1983 between January 4, and April 1.

For your convenience the Tax Assessor - Tax Collector's office will be open during the noon hour and on Saturdays a half day starting January 8.

ADULT/EVENING

Looking for something to do at night?

Pearl River College's Vocational-Technical Department may have the answer:

During the 1983 Spring Semester PRC will offer several adult evening courses one or two nights per week for 17 weeks in Poplarville.

Classes tentatively set for Monday and Wednesday nights are auto mechanics, electricity, machine shop, masonry, drafting, cobol programming, and welding. The Tuesday-Thursday lineup includes welding and diesel mechanics. All of these courses will be taught from 6-10 p.m. except drafting and it is scheduled from 6-9 p.m.

Data processing and office machines will meet every Monday from 6-9 p.m. and secretarial procedures is set for Tuesday nights at the same time. Typewriting is on tap for Wednesday night.

The adult evening night class registration will be held Monday, Jan. 17 at 6 p.m. in the PRC Vocational-Technical Building. Classes will begin that same Monday.

James "Cotton" Forte, director of the Poplarville center, said there will be no waiting list. It is a first-come, first-serve basis. A minimum of 10 persons is required to organize the class.

Cost will vary from $45 to $150 according to the material needed in the class. For more information contact the PRC Vocational-Technical Department at 601-795-2288.

ADULT/ACADEMIC

The Pearl River Junior College, Hancock County Vocational-Technical Center located adjacent to Stennis Airfield is offering several adult evening vocational and academic courses during the Spring 1983 Semester.

Business and office vocational courses will include Accounting I, Accounting II, Office Machines, Shorthand I, and Typing I.

Trade and industrial courses offered are Air Conditioning & Refrigeration, Auto Mechanics, Carpentry/Cabinetmaking, Electricity, Machine Shop & Welding.

Academic college courses offered are Algebra 1313 and Speech 1313. Academic courses carry full accreditation and are VA approved.

Cost per course varies from $45 to $150 depending on course selection. Classes that develop will begin meeting on Jan. 10 and continue for 17 weeks with students meeting one or two nights per week, depending on course selection.

Students may register any time from Jan. 3 thru Jan. 5 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. or on Jan. 6 from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. In the event ten or more students do not register and pay fees, the scheduled course will be cancelled.

EXTRAORDINARY LEFTOVER—Mrs. Gloria Gilmore of Pine Ridge Drive in Waveland turned the carcass of her Thanksgiving turkey into this unusual Santa's sleigh and reindeer team.

thus putting one bird through a rather thorough recycling. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

ASTRO-DESTINY

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19	Be up and doing at dawn... It's a great week. You can get much of the left-over chores out of the way.
TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20	Investigate before putting your money down. You could find yourself on the losing end of finances.
GEMINI May 21 - June 20	Often money comes in easily and quickly. But alas, it goes out the same way. Don't borrow or lend.
CANCER June 21 - July 22	New friendships need thought. Habits of new found friends are questionable - be discriminating.
LEO July 23 - Aug. 22	Keep busy this week. Idle hands and all that stuff can prove accurate. Don't be caught off-guard.
VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22	Trusting business associates can pose a problem for you. Things are not always what they seem.
LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22	It might be just the time to give some thought to a short trip. Too much tension can be relieved by change of scenery.
SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21	A letter can bring an upheaval. Remember there is more than one way to skin a cat.
SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21	Planning a short trip gives you the relaxation that you need. Give more than a little thought to it.
CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19	Past savings prove to be of advantage when an unexpected trip comes up. It should be fun.
AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18	Wishing doesn't make it so. You've got to make an effort if you want to change your life style.
PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20	Antagonism at home can create an unpleasant situation. Sometimes it helps to turn the other cheek.
